Gomez Floor Covering Inc.

Hello Jeff,

In my position as the Property and Procurement Specialist for the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Louisiana, I have had a chance to work with numerous contractors and subcontractors. Patton Contractors was recently hired by the General Service Administration to supply and install carpet in two Judge's Chambers in the Shreveport Federal Courthouse. They in turn subcontracted the installation of this carpet to your company. I normally visit these projects as they are in progress to insure satisfaction of work completed.

The carpet was installed in the two adjoining Judge's chambers by Daniel Escalante, Mario Avila, Jose Martinez, and Juan Mejia. I have been involved with the construction industry for over twenty years and I have found very few contractors whose employees take as much pride in their work as these four individuals. They arrived early every day, conducted work in a very professional manner, and had a very organized method of marking and replacing furniture as they went thru different areas. I estimated a full five days for the installation for these two areas. I was amazed that they were able to get this accomplished in three and a half days. Even with the scheduling problems that were beyond their control, these men did not lose time. It was indeed a pleasure to have these men do the carpet installation and hope to have them on all future installations.

Sincerely,
